Dear Assoc. Prof Abbas Cheddar:

Congratulations on your appointment as a Distinguished Speaker of the ACM. Your term as a Distinguished Speaker is for three years.

ACM's Distinguished Speaker Program (DSP) is a highly visible way that ACM, through the appointment of leading researchers, engages with emerging professionals, students and, in some cases, the public on a range of topics in computing. Thank you for joining this illustrious group.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for lending your time to this important program for the computing community.

Regards,

Cherri Pancake
ACM President
